The reality

- The world is changing exponentially. Ever more complex social problems require urgent systemic solutions.
- Society, employees and investors increasingly expect social engagement from investment funds and individuals.
- Social entrepreneurs develop disruptive, scalable solutions that address the root-cause of social problems.
Ashoka: The world’s largest network of social entrepreneurs

Since 1980
We’ve built the world’s first and largest network of social entrepreneurs

3,800 Social Entrepreneurs (Ashoka Fellows)
In more than 90 countries

In 2019

5th in the world for innovation and impact

According to the international platform NGO Advisor, in 2021 we rank

Forbes names Ashoka as one of the most innovative organizations in the world.
We select and support the world's most impactful social entrepreneurs.

Ashoka has 40 years of experience in finding and selecting the most systems-changing innovators. Following a rigorous due diligence process, around 1% of nominated changemakers fit the criteria for becoming an Ashoka Fellow.

What we have in common

Venture backed founders and social entrepreneurs share many similarities:

- They are disruptive
- They are obsessed with execution
- They want to change markets and systems
- They understand their markets deeply
- They face all the challenges linked to exponential growth
- They have to build sustainable organizations
VC/PE funds and Ashoka also have many similarities

- We spot, select and support the best founders and teams
- We think in terms of “portfolio”
- We work closely with the organizations with the largest markets/ biggest possible impact
- We love (and are good at) working with system changing entrepreneurs

The challenge for Ashoka as a not-for-profit organization is that the reward is not in monetary terms but measured in impact.

“Ashoka seeks to catalyze the citizen sector by adapting the venture capitalist approach. The idea is to search for budding innovators, to supply them with seed money and to connect them in a global Fellowship.”

Our impact: Ashoka Fellows drive systems change

- 87% of Fellows' innovation have been replicated by others 10 years after their election
- 61% of Fellows have seen their idea replicated within their country, 42% internationally.
- 72% of Fellows changed policy at a national or international level
- 71% of Fellows changed policy at a national or international level

“Ashoka is a powerful force in the world. Just the power of all the connections between all the changemakers in the community is intoxicating. I can’t think of a better environment to radically change the world”

Jacek Purski, Poland, Institute of Social Safety

<tr>
<td>Street children have long been exploited and abused by the police, employers, and many others. Ashoka Fellow Jeroo Billimoria introduced Childline in India, a free hotline for street kids - answered by street kids.</td>
<td>Globally, only one out of 20 people who need an organ transplant receive it. Ashoka Fellow Rafael Matesanz, designed and implemented an efficient national organ donation and transplantation system, placing Spain at the very top of the organ donation list.</td>
<td>Founded by Ashoka Fellow Bart Weetjens, APOP O's scent detection rats help to rid the world of landmines – returning safe land back to communities, and freeing people from serious illness.</td>
</tr>

Impact indicators:
- The Indian government mandated that the services be implemented in all of India's districts.
- The Childline model is replicated in 133 countries.

Impact indicators:
- Spain is the world's largest organ donor, with 38 donors per million people (vs. EU average of 22).
- In Spain, the waiting time for a kidney transplant is 8 months (vs. 3.6 years in the US)

Impact indicators:
- + 150,000 landmines removed in 7 countries, including Cambodia, South Sudan and Turkey.
- In 2015, Mozambique declared free of all landmines, with the support of HeroRats..

Growth indicators, since 1996:
- From covering 1 district to 598 in India
- From assisting 1,140 children to 390,000 in 2021

Growth indicators, since 2012:
- Steady increase of organ donations in the last 10 years.
- Model is being replicated in all five continents, in collaboration with WHO.

Growth indicators, since 1997:
- Has evolved to training dogs to detect tuberculosis. Over 250,000 patients tested.
The X factor: Leveraging our network for impact

Ashoka is a powerful, global network. Through the Ashoka Support Network, a community of business leaders and entrepreneurs, as well as dozens of pro-bono partners, we are able to give our Fellows access to networks and services they couldn’t reach on their own.
A case study: The German Fellowship and its Support Network

A study of the German Fellowship and its access to pro bono partners showed that Ashoka can multiply every Euro donated by a factor of 7.
What's in it for you?

Leverage your social impact: We are the best at finding the best. Know that your donation will go to the most impactful organisations, leveraged by our global network of partners.

Unite through purpose: Let us present our work and vision to you and your team. Involve your employees and share stories with your investors to create a shared sense of purpose.

A learning journey: Depending on your needs, tap into Ashoka’s rich engagement opportunities and powerful network of changemakers and increase your capacity to create positive impact.
Testimonials

Christian Figge, GA
"Ultimately, I want my philanthropic efforts to be scalable, but I can’t do that on my own. I see it as my own asset allocation in terms of giving back. It’s just like our investors at General Atlantic. They give us their money because they trust us. The same is true for Ashoka and the Carry4Good pledge. They are the experts in scaling social innovation."

Felix Frohn-Bernau, palero
"The idea behind Carry4Good is simple and powerful. Donating depending on your returns and involving Ashoka as the best at finding and scaling the best social entrepreneurs. It’s a win win: we can contribute to a changemaking system of social entrepreneurship and at the same time benefit from Ashoka and its network and learn more about things beyond our core business."

Caspar Wahler, Hedosophia
"Ashoka with its history and global footprint is uniquely positioned to partner with funds and investors from around the world who assess innovation day in day out. It’s the idea of applying my experience to social innovation and to work with and learn from social entrepreneurs here in London that got me to join the Carry4Good pledge."
